Mike--

Wondering if you know of any sites that have become Superfund sites based ONLY on ecological considerations, with no human health issues for the site (s)????/ What about sites becoming Superfund based on NPDES violations (exceedances of permit levels??)

At Peabody Coal, we do not seem to have much human health issues to base an action on. Ecological issues, we are still looking at. We will probably be having a meeting with Indiana Dept. of Nat. Resources, Division of Reclamation in a couple of weeks. ----Ken Gill, IDEM
